TUBMAN HIGH SCHOOL

"The Black and Gold"

by Velma Bell '25

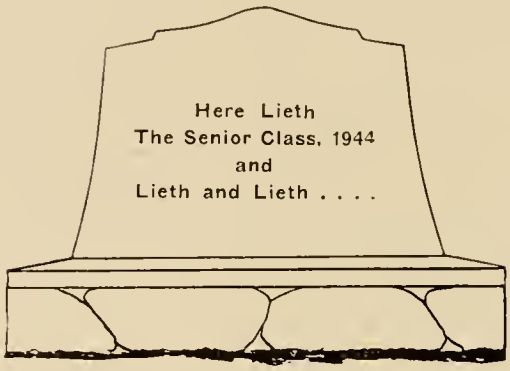
Now We'll give a cheer for Tubman,
For the school we love the most!
Evermore we sing her praises,
And her name shall be our boast.
To the top We'll raise her colors,
And her standards ever hold.
Then let us give a rousing cheer
For the Tubman black and gold.
Then let us give a rousing cheer
For the Tubman black and gold.

CHORUS:

So with voices loud and strong,
To her name we raise a song,
For to her our hearts belong,
With a love untold.
Then we'll cheer for Tubman High!
May her spirit never die;
Victorious may fly
Dear old black and gold.

"With such a comrade, such a friend,
I fain would walk till journey's end."

Prophecy



EPITAPHS FOR TUBMAN GRAVEYARD

From ghoolies and ghosties and long—winded teachers
And things that go knock on the desk—
Good Lord, deliver us! ! !

Here lies Miss Gilliland's Ford V-8.
It was born too soon and died too late.

Here lies Anne Cave.
Her 9th husband put her in her grave.

Here are the remains of Hutto, Mary Jane.
The best chorus girl in the domain.

Poor Ann Ballard—
If only she hadn't eaten that synthetic salad! ! !

Here lies Barbara Poole.
She died in horror of teaching school.

Here lies Mary Ellis Jones.
May God rest her weary bones.

Life had ended for Mildred Lum.
She swallowed too much chewing gum.

This is what became of Loyce Scott
She answered too many government forms, where, why and what.

The end of Betty Hendrix is this:
She fell off the desk-top yodeling Swiss.

It was adios to Senorita Mary von Sprecken.
She got tired of Spanish and just died, I reckon.

Here lies Margie Carstarphen.
She danced herself into her coffin.

Here lies Marian Wright.
She must not have seen that red light.

Here we find Sara Belle Slusky.
She shouldn't have married a man so husky.

Here rests Louise Little down.
No more can she thumb rides to town.

This is the grave of Lillian Wong.
She was as short as her life was long.

This's what becomes of girls like Elmo Fields.
She tried to land her helicopter without any wheels.

Here lies Earline Beck.
Her head got disjointed stretching her neck.

Here Mary Skip-Study Barrett doth lie—
She shouts in her sleep, "Why, one reason why!"

Here's the end of wee Jewell Russell.
She got in this fix trying to hustle.

Carolyn Havird, may she rest in peaceth
Passed St. Peter by the skin of her teeth.

Here's what became of Mary Greene:
Her nose is still stuck in a magazine.

This is what happened to Maxine McCall.
She broke her jaw yelling YOU-ALL in the hall.

Dorothy Morris drew in her line
And gave up the ghost on a tombstone design.

Here sleeps Kitty Smith serene
Like she slept in class at sweet sixteen

Jewell Pereyra here makes her bed—
"Too much lipstick licked her," Miss Clark said.

Shirley Koger, the Angels say.
Was a first class she-cop in her day.

What became of Phyllis Lang?
She argued with a battleship—bang! bang! bang!

Here's the place where Quinn was interred
But she talked herself out of it, so I've heard.

Avonell Parkerson now is a hant
Teaching the Freshmen to chew and rant.

Where in this world is Ullainee?
She sho' ain't here. That's plain to see.

Caroline Broome is here deceased.
But like Abou Ben Adam, her tribe increased.

Here are the light-bulbs from Room No. 20 so light.
We never did use them; we were all so bright.

Buried herewith are the shades of Senior C 39.
All turned to ribbons by the shorthand of time.

To the rest of the Seniors—your space is "resoived."
We'll ghost-write you an epitaph when you say the "woid."

WEATHER REPORT

The weather bureau advises us that we'd better think twice before flying over Mars today.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Now that Audrey Trussell has become a hat designer—what will become of hats! ! !

"Censored"

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT:

Mary Helen Timmerman took a position at Tubman High, as Miss Braddy's contemporary. Maxine McCall has resigned as Congressman from Ga. She will be succeeded by Lucille Usry. Adele Farr is drawing Varga and Petty Girls with Betty Hendrix serving as model. Shirley Koger, tight-rope artist, got her start at Tubman balancing herself when she fell over a desk or two. Adrienne Tompkins has just published a book, Bicloride of Lavender, a technical treatise on how to sever relations with foreign husbands. She ought to know. Fay Grammer, our well-known sociologist, has figured out at last how to spell without the use of consonants or vowels.

"For Sale"

MUSIC LOVERS' CORNER

Marilyn Britton, hydrochloric soprano, gave a brilliant performance last night. She had the Local Trash-gatherers' Union No. 99 swooning. We feel sorry for Sinatra III.

"Military Secret"

NOTORIOUS GUN MOLL AT LARGE

Edna Lanier, gun moll for "Two-Gun Jerry", is still at large. Her sister, Eula Lanier, America's most famous "Angel of Mercy" since Flo Nightingale, refuses to make any statement to the press concerning her sister.

YOU HAVE A DATE TO SEE

Margie Carstarphen. She will appear on the Vyvyan Hains Television Corporation tonight at eight doing her famous dance which she said she earned trying to get to class on time. . . Hear Suzanne Hardy, President of the Village Uplift Society, speak on "Why Marry Early" . . . Attend the first revue starring the pupils of Mary Jane Hutto, successor to Arthur Murray. . . Inspect Joanne Paschal's institution for correction of pigeon toes.

ROUND THE WHEELS

Martina Allen, train dispatcher at Grand Central Station, has ordered Marian Wright out to Engine No. 99. The fireman on this train is Helen Wood. Wood and Wright got together in high school days, tapping on desks. This tapping signal has been substituted for ordinary train signals and is being taught the following flagwomen on the New York Central: Beverly Boles, Dorothy Higginbotham, Jewell Russell, Ann Scott, Ruth Jordan and Ann Pearre.

"For Rent"

KEY-HOLE VIEWS

Lillian Wong, renowned Empress of China, flies over to Augusta each week for a facial.

Mary Barrett, as First Lady, is efficiently managing social affairs at the White House.

Cornelia Grimaud has just taken Veronica Lake's place.

Martha Graves is to be awarded the Nobel Prize for her invention of the flytrap.

Christine Berry is Earl Carroll's latest find.

Barbara Redish has recently published her fifth book, Mine is the Lonely Heart.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Tubman High School, 1944, being of sound health and feeble mind, do herein make our last will and testament:

Article One: I, Betty Hendrix, do will and bequeath to Peggy Grealish, my blonde hair so that she won't have to peroxide hers.

Article Two: I, Anna Maxwell, do will and bequeath to any tall person the task of raising windows and regulating radiators.

Article Three: I, Patsy Young, do will and bequeath my southern accent to Barbara Landrum so she can be heard on 3rd floor.

Article Four: I, Ann Rose, do will and bequeath my finger-nails to Eugenia Arnett, in order that she will have something to bite when she takes her Senior exams.

Article Five: I, Juanita Dunn, do will and bequeath my desk against the wall in D. C. T. class to Katherine Griffin, so that she will have a headrest when she goes to sleep.

Article Six: I, Billie Cook, do will and bequeath my love for swooning over Frank Sinatra to Emily Webb.

Article Seven: I, Anne Cave, do will and bequeath all the chewing gum parked under my desk to Annette Bassing.

Article Eight: I, Agnes Burdashaw, do will and bequeath to my Home Room, a room full of B's that will "sit down and stop talking when the first bell rings."

Article Nine: I, Mildred Burke, do will and bequeath a bottle of ink to Miss Nachman to beat on the desk to her heart's content.

Article Ten: I, Jewell Pereyra, do will and bequeath my complete make-up equipment to Miss Clark.

Article Eleven: I, Eula Lanier, do will and bequeath my broken desk in Study Two to Martha Gibbs.

Article Twelve: I, Ullainee Drawdy, leave my ability to find my way to Medical School during my free periods to anybody who can make use of it.

Article Thirteen: I, Cornelia Grimaud, do will and bequeath my place in Chem. Lab. to Beulah Howard, with hopes that one day she'll blow the whole place up.

Article Fourteen: I, Dorothy Jean McGill, do will and bequeath my ability for cutting up worms to the Sophomore Class.

Article Fifteen: I, Lulyanne Seigler, do will and bequeath my desk in Miss Braddy's room to Mary Alice Cooper in hopes that the inscriptions on it will help her to endure English.

Article Sixteen: I, Joyce Gleason, do will and bequeath my exceptional ability not to repeat history teachers to Dottie Jackson.

Article Seventeen: I, Peggy Davidson, do will and bequeath my unique drawing ability to Mary Ann Foster to help her pass away the time in history class.

Article Eighteen: We, Harriette Corneli, Helen Arlene Eubanks, Ann Farriba, Theresa Dowd, Mary Ellis Jones and Peggy Bassing do will and bequeath to the future Seniors, the honor and privilege of loving Uncle Sam's sailors.

Article Nineteen: I, Ruth Johnson, do will and bequeath to Miss Halbert my chewing gum to be placed on her pupils' heads as punishment.

Article Twenty: We, the Senior C's, do will and bequeath our long fingernails to the new typing class and advise them to use them because Miss King insists on long nails for typing.

Article Twenty-One: I, Shirley Wilensky, do will and bequeath my "Tubman Notes" to the scrap-paper drive.

Article Twenty-Two: We, Mary Barrett, Sally Bussey and Betty Nance, do will and bequeath a bottle of glue to Frank Mays, Betty Phinizy and Emily Webb so they can stick together as much as we did.

Article Twenty-Three: I, Miriam Patterson, do will and bequeath my English notes to Sarah Jane Farlow to help her avoid a crackup with Miss Braddy.

Article Twenty-Four: I, June Durden, do will and bequeath all my money to Tubman for the purpose of adding another wing to make the school co-ed.

Article Twenty-Five: We, the Senior D's, do will and bequeath to the future Sr. D's our utmost love for Room 200.

Article Twenty-Six: We, the Senior Latin students do leave and bequeath our Vergil books for next year's scrap drive and Asodopholus Que to Freshmen B's exclusively.

Article Twenty-Seven: We, the Senior A's, do will and bequeath our continous rivalry with the B's to the coming Senior A's.

Signed, sworn to, sealed and delivered before us the nineteenth day of February, 1944 A. D.
